136th PS “Luben Karavelov”

- ▶ Teacher-Parent communication before enrolling in the school - home visits
- ▶ Parent meetings in each of the 2 school year terms
- ▶ Daily communication via telephone calls between teachers and parents
- ▶ Working together with parents to motivate and retain children at school
- ▶ Parents attending lessons at school
- ▶ An open school register with students' grades, absences, remarks, appraisals
- ▶ Events together with parents

Enrolling in the school

- ▶ At the end of every school year teachers start to do home visits and have conversations with parents in order to get them to enroll their children into our school for the following school year.
- ▶ Difficulties arising from the ethnicity of the students' families.
- ▶ Most of our students are from Roma ethnic minority - extra efforts have to be put to motivate both the children and their parents for a better education.
- ▶ Parents are often uneducated and illiterate - there is a need of a mediator of Roma origin as well who can translate from the Roma language to the teachers

Parent meetings in each of the 2 school year terms

- ▶ During each of the 2 terms of the school year parent meetings are organized.
- ▶ General questions about the performance of children are discussed - behavioral and attendance problems as well.
- ▶ The main problem is the low attendance from parents.

Daily telephone calls

- ▶ Compared to the low attendance during parent meetings - class teachers and other teachers as well communicate with parents on a daily basis.
- ▶ Organizational questions are being discussed, problematic behavior, lack of attendance - when a student starts to be absent teachers always call and ask for reasons and try to urge the parents to be responsible towards school attendance.
- ▶ Viber groups - every class has a viber group with all parents in it where communication is achieved.
